WESTERN RAILWAY PROGRESS

Bands of Iron to Bind Butte, Helena and Virginia City.

OUTLETS FOR CRIPPLE CREEK

Deadwood Central to Resume Operations-Wealth of Russell Gulen in Gold-A Mammoth Coal Breaker-Stock All Right-General Western News.

The Montana Southern railroad, which is intended to connect Butte, Helena and Virginia City via Whitehall, is now an assured fact, says the Butte Miner, and the work of grading will be commenced in a few days. It is the intention of the promoters to grade twenty miles of the line before the weather gets too severe, and complete the work by August 1 of next year. Surveyors are now laying out the proposed route. Hon, Sam Word of Helena is the chief promoter in the enterprise. In speaking of the line in the presence of a press representative a few days ago Mr. Word said:

"The building of this line of railroad has been my hobby for years, but despairing at this time of enlisting in the project those whose financial aid I expected, I have, with two personal friends, undertaken the task without them. I now have surveyors in the field to locate the line permanently. In a few days graders will be put to work. By spring I expect to have twenty miles of the road ready for the ties and rails. It's my desire to not do too much talking about this road just now, as there has already considerable said with reference to it, will say, however, that the building of the line is an assured fact.

"I have assurances from both the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific people that they will render any aid in their power, which means much in the matter of rates on construction material.

"The line will extend from Whitehall up the Jefferson river to Twin Bridges, thence up the Ruby valley to a point near Lauria. It will be about fifty miles in length."

Will Boom Cripple Creek. Cripple Creek is to have two railroads. says the Denver Times, and the competition will place the rates on freight at a figure to insure the prosperity of the camp. The en-tire country seems to be a mineral-bearing formation, of a low grade, generally, but of sufficient value to pay to ship if low rates are obtained.

With the Midland Terminal on one side entering the district and the Rio Grande connection on the other, a general benefit will be derived and a larger territory will be helped than if one road only were built. If the Midland only built to the camp then Colorado Springs and Denver would be benefited. But wish the southern outlet Pueblo and Canon City will get a strong support from the great camp. It is now stated that Mr. Moffat has arranged to place the bonds for the southern outlet, the Florence & Cripple Creek Short Line, and will go to New York to consum-mate the negotiations and try to have the work commenced at once. In the event of his success the terminal of the road will probably be at or near the Anaconda group of mines, at which quite a camp may be built as a result.

Mr. Collbran of the Santa Fe is expected to return from New York and he has wired that he has completed all arrangements for the construction of the Midland Terminal.

With two railways building into Cripple Creek this winter and hundreds of miners engaged in developing the mines, the con-clusion is readily arrived at that it will be the busiest section in Colorado.

The other day a party of capitalists who are here from New York went out on a special train. They are Mr. Moffat's "people" and will look into the Florence & Cripple Creek road either enroute to Ric or returning. Both parties are anxious to get into the camp first, and lively work is expected all around. The camp is called a "low" grade camp and one in which a railway connection will be a mutual benefit. is claimed that any one can be successful who can get a foothold in that camp when it has a raiway connection, and it will have one or two such connections.

The narrow guage railroad running be-tween Lead City and Deadwood, formerly known as the Deadwood Central, which has been lying idle for nearly a year, will resume operations inside of thirty days. management to get the road in shape for travel as soon as possible, and although nothing is said in the telegram of the plans of the company, yet it is understood that the road between Lead City and Pluma will be greatly repaired and the grade made more uniform and moderate. It is also reported that heavier steel rails will be laid and new engines and cars purchased. Under the old management accidents were frequent, which was the principal cause of the close down, as the passenger trade alone more timn paid running expenses. The news of the early resumption of the line was gladly received by both the critizens of Lead City and Deadwood, as it will be a great advantage to both places in a business sense.

The Nottaway group of mines in Russell gulch, Gilpin county, Colo., is attracting attention by reason of the high-grade gold ores taken from the shafts, in some cases showing $5,200 per ton for gold alone. The Cening $5,200 per ton for gold atone. The Central Register-Call reports active work on the west claim of the Nottaway. They find the ore bodies producing well on the 150-foot levels, east and west. Their east chimney is particularly valuable, producing a number of shipments that netted $150 per ton, and is places running from $400 to $950 per ton. in places running from $400 to $950 per ton.
There are over 2.000 feet of paying ground on the Nottaway vein, including the Chaffee Nottaway, in which the leasers have found a face body of gray copper ore. The Hill Nottaway is also being worked by leasers.

There are also on the west two Nottaway claims owned by the Sution Mining com-pany, of which W. B. Root of Denver is president. The westerly one of these is called the Baltimore. called the Baltimore.

In addition to the high-grade ores pro duced by these mines there are immenso quantities of low grade ores running from $8 to $30 per ton, which do not wors to the best advantage in the common stamp mill, but which will pay handsomely under the Austin process of smelling, or in a chlorin-ating mil.

The report sent out that stockmen in western South Dakota would suffer greatly this winter owing to prairie fires on the range seems to have been without foundastock raisers, who has just made a trip over the range with the beef roundup, says: It is false that the ranges have all been destroyed by fire. There is range enough there for fifty times the number of cattle that are now being pastured and i do not know of a single cattleman whose stock will suffer materially by the fires. There is plenty of grass left and it is good this year, too. It is true we have had fires, but they burned only a comparatively small strip of

Owing to the recent market raise in the prices of cattle stockmen are feeling good. Recent shipments of range cattle from Pierre have brought as high as $4.50 per hundred on the Chicago market. At both South Omaha and Chicago the highest prices paid this season for western cattle have been for stock from western South Dakota. If there stock from western South Dakota. If there has been a lingering doubt in the mind of any one as to the superior quality of the stock product of the ranges lying between the Missouri river and the Wyoming line this fact should dispose of the question.

western and Union Pacific, is strenuously denied at headquarters. The fise last Saturday morning took up the question of traffic arrangements made between the Union Pacific and Northwestern, and discussed the situation at length, from which it is inferred that the Chicago statement of yesterday stating positively that the millification or medification of said contract was being seriously considered by the receivers, receives inspirconsidered by the receivers, receives inspir-

General Passenger Agent Lomax, when General Passenger Agent Lomax, when asked about the situation, said, smilingly, to the reporter that he was barking up the wrong tree. "It is foolish to think that the receivers will abrogate a contract that is mutually advantageous. The business over the Burlington and tRock Island is gone beyond hope of recall. As for the Milwaukee, that road could not give us a tentu of the local business now received from the Northwestern. Therefore, in the light of these western. Therefore, in the light of these arrangements, it seems to me that all this talk about abrogation of contract is both premature and illy warranted by the facts in the case.'

"But," said the newspaper man, "is there not a possibility of the Northwestern completing its line to Ogden, thereby depriving the Union Pacific of business which now comes to it by right?"

Advantages of the Contract.

"Not so long as the contract is in effect," said Mr. Lomax. "The contract stipulates what shall be done and what not done during the life of the agreement, and building into our territory is expressly prohibited. The contract with the Northwestern is advanageous in many ways and talk of abrogation tageous in many ways and talk of abrogation is decidedly on the wrong seent."

Judge Kelly of the law department corroborated what Mr. Lomax had said, stating in addit on that all the details of the transfer of the property te the receivers had not yet been completed and until things were in perfect running order questions of policy regarding contracts and agreements would not be seriously discussed. "I do would not be seriously discussed. "I do know," said the judge, "that the Union Pacific is perfectly satisfied with the contract, and naturally would not do anything to annul the agreement. I am candid in saying that I have never read the contract which was made during Mr. Adams' administration as president of the company, and only by hearsay have learned the salient features of the compact." the compact.

But there is considerably more reason to believe that the Rock Island and Milwaukee contracts will be abrogated long before the Northwestern's is, and the officials here of the roads indicated are not sailing on a summer sea by any means. In fact there is a lee shore just in sight, and the officials have commenced to trim sail. The contracts between these two roads run for 990 years, the stipulation being that for an annual rental of $45,000 each the roads have the privilege of using the bridge and terminals on this side of the river and also the use of the east end of the bridge by pay-ing their proportion of keeping the tracks in order and paying wheelage charges beside.

Througt Train Service. The arrangement, however, pecuits the Rock Island and Milwaukee to run their trains solid into Omahu glving the Rock Island through service to Denver via the Union Pacific bridge and also entrance into Kunaas City. Naturally, a strong competition like the Rock Island is not greatly assembled by the Union Pacific participally. esteemen by the Union Pacific, particularly atribute to the success of the Rock Island by permitting the road to me its bridges and terminals under the decretal order handed down by Justice Brower. It has long been known in railroad circles that President Clara desired to have his own train crews handle both Rock Island and Milwaukee trains from the Council and Milwaukee trains from the Council Bings transfer, and that his conductors might collect bridge fares instead of permitting the trains to run solid into the union depot. It must not be understood that Mr. Clark would antagonize the Rock Island and Milwaukee from entering thann, but he wants to handle the trains over the bridge and reap whatever money there is in such arrangement for his company instead of receiving what has all along been considered a very nominal rental from the Milwaukee and Rock Island. As from the Milwaukee and Rock Island. As an example of the onesidedness of the agreement made between these companies, the Milwaukee and Rock Island can abandon the contract by giving three years notice, but the Union Pacific could never get out of the arrangement, except in one way—by the appointment of receivers. Pashes from the Headlight

Travel is exceedingly heavy at present, all the lowslines arriving late yesterday on account of heavy trains. No. 2 on the Burlington had lifteen cars out of Omaha Tuesday. The train was di-vided into two sections at Pacific Junction. The new order of things on the Usion Pacific will compel one of the receivers to be constantly on the ground to surn papers and transact all business under the raling of the court. This will probably make Mr. Clark a fixture in Omaha, although there was a rumor in circulation a short time ago that he would take the presidency of the Missouri Pacific next year.
